

Enter into the mind of a fourteen year old author, who uses her imagination to tell a story of four children going on a journey through the woods. See all the dangerous situations they encounter and where they experience many fun

adventures.